World's largest ice cream cone company, Joy Cone celebrates 100 years in business

Story contributed by Dick Davis

Lebanese immigrant Albert George started things in 1918 with a used, hand-operated cone-baking oven. The George & Thomas Cone Company was born.

One hundred years later and known as the Joy Cone Company, the third-generation firm is operated by the George family through an Employee Stock Ownership Plan (ESOP) with about 1,050 employees at plants in Hermitage, Iowa, Arizona, and Mexico City. Joy is the world's largest ice cream cone company, baking about two billion cones a year.

"I think Albert would be shocked at the size of the company" says David George, Joy president and CEO, and grandson of Albert. "Our market place has grown considerably from what it was when he retired in 1964."

"I also think he'd be very proud of our company and the way his son, Joe (Joe George, father of David), turned things around in the 1960s. My grandfather lived long enough to see that the next generation had the company on an upward trajectory. But he would not have anticipated what has happened over the past several decades."

David is a graduate of Hickory High School and earned a BA from Harvard University and an MBA from the University of Pittsburgh.

In 2000, Joy opened its western plant in Flagstaff, AZ. And in late 2016, Joy bought BoDean's Baking Group in Iowa and Altesa in Mexico to broaden its base from the retail and grocery business to include industrial customers.

The soon-to-open addition in Hermitage of a $20 million, 112,000 sq. ft. facility will initially employ a dozen and manufacture cookie products used as inclusions in ice cream. Lamor Road, Hermitage is Joy's home base and employs about 400.

"While there are a number of reasons for our success," David says, "perhaps the most important has been our dedicated work force. Over the years, we have invested a lot of money in buildings, ovens, and equipment, but if you don't have the right people in place, all of that does not matter."

"Our employees are part of the 'extended' Joy Cone family, and as an employee-owned company, we all know that we are in this together."

Joy's numerous products include sugar cones, cake cones, chocolate-dipped cones, waffle cones, and waffle bowls of all sizes and shapes with Gluten-free options. Joy's extensive website of www.joycone.com offers a blog with recipes not just for cones with the usual ice cream products but also for cones filled with fruit, lettuce, or chicken. A monthly coloring contest is available for children.

"We continue to try to reach markets other than ice cream," David says. "We are always looking for new ways to prepare other, edible items."

Hickory High School Silver Cords Program

Focuses on Students' Community Service Experience

The Hickory High School administration and faculty have developed a unique volunteer program, Silver Cords, to instill students with the importance of community service and to encourage students to be accountable for investing in the community and their own education.

Silver Cords Program Goals:

- Enhance self-confidence
- Increase citizenship
- Give students the opportunity to work with people in their community
- Recognize students for their commitment to the community

The students may start earning volunteer hours beginning the summer prior to their freshman year and must acquire at least 150 volunteer hours at a minimum of four (4) eligible community organizations / locations throughout their high school career. The students are responsible to ensure that the organization in which they are volunteering is on the approved provider list.

There are in excess of 100 approved organizations / locations where the students may volunteer. Approved agencies are required to notify the HHS Silver Cords committee of changes within their agency regarding their designated program coordinator and their contacts authorized to sign off on the student volunteer's hours.

The students receive invaluable and rewarding volunteer experiences and have opportunities to learn about community service organizations and events. The approved organizations realize the value of the volunteer service and provide positive community experiences for the student volunteers.

The City of Hermitage has utilized the HHS Silver Cords Program volunteers for special events such as the Hermitage Arts Festival, the Hermitage Holiday Light Parade, the Hermitage Spikeball Tournament and the Hermitage Farmers' Market. Students have also volunteered at various city facilities including the Hermitage Athletic Complex, the eCenter@LindenPointe and Rodney White Olympic Park. Neil Hosick, Facilities Coordinator and a Silver Cords program contact stated: "This is an amazing program introducing students to volunteerism and providing support for many city sponsored events and at various city facilities. I've thoroughly enjoyed working with these young adults and witnessing their talents."

For more information on the program interested and participating organizations should contact – Katie Passerotti at katie_passerotti@hermitage.k12.pa.us

eAcademy travels to Harrisburg

Written by Jocelyn Roth, Hickory '18

This past February I was chosen to be one of three students from the Entrepreneurship Academy at LindenPointe to take a trip to Harrisburg in partnership with Penn State Shenango. We attended what is known as "Penn State at The Capitol" where we got to meet representatives from all of the Penn State campuses while being in the rotunda of The Capitol Building. This gave us an opportunity to meet our local representatives, and we were given an in depth tour of The Capitol Building by Senator Michelle Brooks.

The very same evening we participated in a networking event with other young entrepreneurs from Penn State, including a handful from our local Shenango campus. This event was especially beneficial for me as I was able to meet a student who is creating 3D printed shoes from printers he designs himself.

The company my team and I have started is in the shoe business which allowed me to discuss the different ideas we had in regards to producing a new mechanism for the shoe using 3D printing technologies.

The following day we went to the Department of Community and Economic Development. Here we were each able to explain our start-up business and grasp a better understanding about where a portion of our program's funding, through grants, has come from. To conclude our trip, we were just in time to attend the annual budget address. Through this trip we were able to spread awareness of what we do at the Entrepreneurship Academy, meet with members of our local government, and network with startup entrepreneurs just like us.

From the Fire Chief ♦ ♦ ♦

John R. Flynn, Fire Marshal-Chief

Spring time is upon us and a lot of us will be starting our outside spring cleaning. Just a reminder, the City of Hermitage has a burning ordinance regulating what you are allowed to burn, hours of burning and the type of container you must burn within. The ordinance was set-up for your safety and the safety of your neighbors. Here are a few highlights of the ordinance:

- Burning hours are Monday thru Saturday 6:00 a.m.-12:00 p.m.
- No burning on Sunday or Holidays.
- You can only burn paper, cloth and wood, Class A materials.
- You are NOT allowed to burn leaves, trash, or anything that will create a noxious odor.
- Burning is prohibited within 15' of any structure or property line.
- Someone must be attending to the fire at all times.
- Recreational fires for outdoor cooking or bonfires are permitted, but cannot be bigger than 5' in length, width and height.
- No burning on windy days.
- Fines can be up to $1000 per violation.

For a complete copy of the ordinance please contact the fire department or the city municipal building.

How to Safely Ignite the Fire

An adult should always be present during open burning. Keep children and pets a safe distance away. Use paper and kindling to start the fire and add progressively larger pieces of wood.

Safety Tips for Open Burning Season

Never use gasoline, kerosene or any other flammable liquid to start a fire. Burn one small pile at a time and slowly add to it. This will help keep the fire from getting out of control. Select a location away from any utility lines, structures, dry grass and keep a 5' square area around the container free of combustible debris.

Fire Must Be Attended Until Extinguished

While the fire is burning, an adult must attend the fire until it is completely extinguished.

Have Fire Control Tools On Hand

Have fire extinguishment materials on hand including a water supply, shovels and rakes. The water supply could be a pressurized water fire extinguisher, a pump can or garden hose, and be sure to test it out before igniting the fire.

Watch the Wind: Be Prepared to Extinguish All Open Burning

Be prepared to extinguish your fire if the winds pick up or weather changes. Sudden wind change is how most open burning gets out of control.

Don't Delay a Call For Help

If the fire gets out of control, call the fire department immediately. Use the utmost caution to prevent injury to yourself or family members or any damage by fire to your home.

From the Chief of Police ♦ ♦ ♦

Eric Jewell, City of Hermitage Chief of Police

Did you know?

Tragically, active shooter and other violent attacks at work places, schools, shopping centers, gyms, restaurants, churches, government buildings, hospitals, etc. are on the rise nationally according to statistics. Unfortunately, it clearly is only a matter of when and where not if. That said this information is not intended to scare, alarm or induce fear, but merely provide some very basic information to increase survivability should that where and when ever be here and now.

Local, state and federal government agencies and private companies can provide discussion and training to the public on this horrendous subject. The U.S. Department of Homeland Security has many online references available for citizens, malls, employers, houses of worship, etc. Private companies like ALICE are really popular with schools and businesses. Most government and private sectors teach some variant of the FBI's "Run, Hide, Fight" concept. Gone is the traditional single-option thinking of a lockdown, which researchers say is too passive and costs lives. Today's concepts reduce loss of life by employing a multi-option response of essentially run or escape if you can, hide and barricade if you can't run, and fight or counter if you can't run or hide. It simply gives individuals in immediate harms way decision making choices for their survival based on the situation before them.

Rest assured area law enforcement (municipal police officers, deputy sheriffs, troopers, constables, conservation officers, probation officers, etc.), emergency medical personnel and firefighters will be responding with haste for any active shooter situation. The Hermitage Police Department is trained and equipped to deal with an active shooter and we will respond rapidly and intensely without hesitation to stop the violence. However, these incidents can start and end quickly with many casualties before police arrive. You can help yourself and others survive. Have and know emergency plans. Know and report potential violence indicators/behaviors. Know exits and evacuation routes. Know rally or meeting points away from the building. Know how to barricade and hide your location. Know a window may be a door to escape. Convince others to escape when running is the best option. Know how to attack the attacker when it is prudent to do so or there are no other options. Know what to expect and how to act when police arrive. Know you can survive even if wounded.

Common sense knowledge and training does make a difference. Call the Hermitage Police Department if you would like a presentation (hour long overview) on active shooter for your Hermitage, Clark or Wheatland business, company, organization or group.

Traffic Safety

From time to time there are area power outages that leave traffic control signals temporarily non-operational. Whether it is a falling tree taking down power lines, a car crash shearing off a utility pole or an unfortunate squirrel shorting out a transformer; these incidents or accidents can cause traffic lights to go dark and make traversing any busy intersection very challenging.

If you approach an intersection and notice the traffic signal is completely unlighted, come to a complete stop before entering the intersection. Then proceed as you would at an all way stop sign intersection. Yield right of way to any vehicle already in the intersection and proceed only when it is safe to do so. Good driver to driver eye contact (if possible), courtesy and patience helps.

If a police officer or other person authorized and appropriately attired to direct and control traffic (firefighter, utility person, etc.) is in the intersection, pay attention to his or her directions. Slow down, be prepared to stop and give the person directing traffic adequate space for safety as you pass. If a person directing traffic has his or her back to you, stop and wait to be directed. Please be patient and understanding if only a single-directional method is used or if you are denied the option to turn left.

We contact the power company and/or our signal maintenance contractor immediately when a non-working traffic light is found or reported. In addition to Hermitage police sometimes using portable stop signs at unlighted traffic light intersections, the Hermitage Fire Department often comes to the rescue by deploying portable generators to temporarily power the traffic signals. In addition to unlighted traffic lights during or after bad storms, motorists should be watchful for other hazards, including but not limited to, flooding, ponding on road surfaces, fallen trees, downed wires and rocks and debris washed onto the roadway.

Crime Prevention

Each year criminals running phone, internet and mail scams unsuccessfully attempt to defraud numerous city residents, but unfortunately several citizens do fall prey to trickery, greed, loneliness and scare tactics. In the end these good hard working or retired people end up losing hundreds if not thousands of dollars.

The IRS scam is still a favorite scheme with crooks. Thieves call and pose as the IRS. They say you owe unpaid taxes and will be arrested or heavily fined if you don't pay by credit or gift card or wire funds now. Some con artists call and pretend to be with the gas or electric company. They say your account is overdue and to avoid an immediate utility shut-off they ask for your credit card number or have you obtain and mail certain gift cards to them. The family member in jail in a foreign country needing bond money or a family member visiting a foreign country injured in an auto accident needing money for surgery are well orchestrated flimflams. Of course no family member is in jail or hurt. The foreign lottery hustle is still around. The "winner" gets a call and will receive his or her huge prize money after wiring nominal taxes or fees to a foreign country. Remember, you didn't play this lottery so how could you possibly win. Don't be lured by emails or letters to try to rescue an unjustly exiled prince's fortune, which was unfairly seized by some exotic country in political turmoil. Swindlers ask you to wire a mere few hundred dollars to some overseas bank to enable the fortune to be transferred to a friendly country or bank. The prince will then reward you handsomely once he is again in control of his riches. There is never any reward as there is no prince.

Be leery of romance schemes too. These heartbreaking criminals surf dating sites or chat rooms of lonely people and pose as persons in similar situations or often as American service men and women stationed overseas. After lengthy correspondence, they then plan to visit their online love but have unexpected travel issues or tragedies requiring emergency money be sent overseas to continue the much awaited rendezvous. These Don Juan thieves only have love for their victims' money.

Don't be duped by these conniving and fast talking/typing culprits. If you receive a call, letter, email or text involving situations like these or even remotely similar scenarios, ask a family member, friend, banker or a police officer for a second opinion before sending money anywhere. Most of these villains live and operate their scams in foreign countries where most U.S. law enforcement cannot go or where prosecution is declined. Sometimes foreign fraudsters use unwitting people inside the United States to unknowingly assist in their crimes by receiving and resending funds. Police will not be able to recover your stolen money from outside the United States and these criminals will be free to continue to use deception to target other Americans.

County/City Tax Bills

Hello and welcome to spring!

All County/City tax bills were sent on March 1, 2018. Remember that it is your responsibility to inform the tax office if you did not receive your bill.

We are headed into the face period of billing through June 30, and then the 10% penalty will be added.

The next tax bills go out on August 1. At that time you should receive both the School Tax bill and your Per Capita bill. If your annual income falls under $10,000.00 from all sources, with proof, there is an exoneration from part of the Per Capita. You must come in to the office, with proof of all income each year to receive any exoneration.

Anyone moving to or from Hermitage should notify our office to either add you to our Per Capita and census or remove you as needed. All residents over the age of 18 are required to pay the Per Capita Tax.

This year, at the request of the auditors, separate checks for County/City, School and Per Capita were needed for payment, as noted on your bills.

This has caused some confusion for residents. So, to explain, your County/City bill is one combined bill and requires only one check! Should you have multiple parcels and are paying all the County/City bills, you may still combine those to one check.

The concern was with taxpayers who pay all their bills at one time later in the year. They were combining County/City with School/or Per Capita bills, which we can no longer accept. They are 3 separate accounts and need to be paid as such.

Once again we would like to let you know that our office is open to your questions and comments either in person, or by phone @ 724-347-4472. We will be happy to assist you.

The Ernie Laslow Bluebird Trail ♦ ♦ ♦

Ninety-six year old World War II veteran Ernie Laslow is a carpenter and bluebird enthusiast. Recently, he installed a bluebird trail at LindenPointe with bluebird houses that he built. He plans on monitoring the houses during his daily walks at LindenPointe.

Eastern bluebird numbers were in decline for many years, but they have begun making a significant comeback. Ernie has noticed increasing numbers of bluebirds at LindenPointe and is hoping to attract more and provide adequate nesting sites.

There are currently 15 numbered bluebird houses throughout LindenPointe. An education placard is being planned to provide walkers with information about the eastern bluebird.

We wish to thank Ernie Laslow for his contributions to the park.
