Volunteers – an invaluable complement to the City

The City currently has 17 authorities, boards and commissions (ABCs) with over 70 City residents volunteering their time and talent to our community. They are an invaluable complement to the City in their advisory role to the staff and Board of Commissioners. Members contribute informed opinions and multiple perspectives in the City's planning and decision making processes. They bring additional ideas and energy to existing programs as well as suggest future initiatives and innovations to consider.

Examples of just a few of the active ABCs are the Hermitage Planning Commission, Hermitage Municipal (Sanitary Sewer) Authority, Hermitage Zoning Hearing Board, Hermitage Parks & Recreation Board and the Hermitage Community & Economic Development Commission.

All of the ABCs are listed on the City website – www.hermitage.net. If you are interested in serving you can express your interest by completing the "Volunteer Interest Form" that is available on the website by clicking on "FORMS" then "Other/General". You can express your interest in a specific ABC or just a general interest by e-mailing the completed form to the City Manager at ghinkson@hermitage.net or dropping it off at the Municipal Building to the Manager's attention. As terms expire or vacancies occur, new members are needed. Fresh ideas, flexibility and diverse perspectives ensure that the City and its culture remain receptive to innovation and will anticipate change.
